FRANK—LUCAS.

Wedding in Pennsylvania of Two Well Known Young People.

Miss Emma George Lucas, daughter of the late Rev. C. S. Lucas, formerly Pastor of the Christian Church of this city, was quietly married Wednesday evening last to Rev. Robert Graham Frank of Nicholasville, at the home of her mother, Mrs. C. S. Lucas, Allegheny, Pa.

The ceremony, which took place at 9 o'clock, was performed by Rev. B. A. Abbott of Baltimore, an uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. W. J. Lhamon of the First Christian Church of Allegheny.

The bride wore a blue traveling gown and carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

There were no attendants.

Immediately after the ceremony Rev. Mr. Frank and his bride left for the East and after April 1st will be at home in Nicholasville.

PROPRIETORS BEE HIVE

A SAILOR ONCE AGAIN.

For rather more than thirty years Our Uncle's been ashore. And Stars and Stripes have absent been Where often seen before. But soon our ships, just as of old, Will every sea explore.

Our Uncle Sam's A sailor once again! The Yellow Sea, the Red, the Black, The China and the White Shall often see the Flag that flew O'er Santiago's fight; And all the Nations of the earth Shall learn—and learn aright— That Uncle Sam's A sailor once again!

And though he's been so long ashore He's quite at home at sea; And quite as quick to trade as fight He'll surely prove to be. "Let cargo follow cruisers close All round the world," say we, "Now, Uncle Sam's A sailor once again!"

THE SPIRIT THAT'LL WIN BATTLES.

A Camp Wikoff correspondent of The New York Sun contributes the following to the literature of the War:

What every officer of the regulars does, if he is or intends to become an efficient factor on the field of battle, is to attempt to win the confidence and respect of his men. He endeavors to become well acquainted with their personal peculiarities, and he studies now to instill into them that spirit, which having no English equivalent for it, we call esprit de corps. A captain usually has plenty of opportunity for this, the other company officers not quite so much so, and it sometimes happens that a Lieutenant finds himself suddenly in command of a Company which has been somewhat demoralized by the loss of the man to whose leadership it has become accustomed. Then is the time when he must act swiftly and firmly if he would avoid disaster. Such a crisis came to Lieutenant Newell, Second Lieutenant of Company A, Twenty-second Infantry, at El Caney, and the choicest war reminiscence of his men is how he came out of it. The firing had been sharp where they stood, and early in the fight the Captain and the First Lieutenant fell, leaving the command to Lieutenant Newell, who is a young Southerner. His men were nervous and disheartened by their losses, and their commander saw that unless he got them in hand soon there would be some happenings that would not look well in the reports. Some of his men were out ahead skirmishing, and one of them, a man who was popular in the Company, fell. The Lieutenant ordered his men forward to get the wounded soldier. They stood still. Again he ordered them, but they did not obey. Turning to a Sergeant whom he implicitly trusted, Lieutenant Newell said quietly: "Sergeant, I want you to go out with me to get that wounded man."

"Yes, sir," said the Sergeant, saluting.

The Company stood and watched them go forward. At the first glance the Lieutenant saw that the soldier could not live more than a few minutes. He groined out a request to be taken back to the lines to die.

"All right," said the officer. "We'll take you in a minute. Just lie quiet and I'll stay with you."

In two minutes, during which time Lieutenant Newell and the Sergeant stood there under fire, the soldier died. Then the two went back to the lines. Nothing was said between the Company and the officer, who had just proved himself, but the nervous wavering of the line was over. The men stood like rocks, and when the order came to advance they went forward with a cheer. In three minutes they had passed the line that separates the tyro from the veteran.

"That ain't in the book, sir," said the soldier who told this incident to the writer, "but, by God, that's the true thing that wins battles!"

WANTS TAXES BACK.

Farmers National Bank of Augusta Files Suit Against the Commonwealth.

The Farmers National Bank of Augusta has filed suit against the state to recover $800 alleged to have been illegally collected from it as taxes.

Judge J. P. Harbeson of Flemingsburg and George Doniphan of Augusta are the Bank's attorneys, and the point they have raised is likely to attract the attention of other banks and result in a large number of suits of a similar character.

The petition recites that the Court of Appeals having decided in 1897 that the Hewitt Revenue Law was not in force, and the Bank having paid under its provisions for the years 1893 to 1897, is now entitled to recover back the difference between the Hewitt rate, which was 75 cents on the $100, and the new law, which the Court held to be in force, and which fixed the rate of state taxation at 42½ cents on the $100.

THANKS FROM CUBA.

Captain Phister's Boys Enjoy the Reading Matter Sent From Maysville.

A few weeks since a couple of large boxes filled with choice books, magazines and papers generously contributed by the people, were sent from this city to Major M. C. Hutchins, who forwarded them to Captain Nat P. Phister of the First United States Infantry, stationed at Pinar del Rio, Cuba.

It was hard for the boys to receive reading matter in the new possessions, and here's how they thank the Maysville folk for their thoughtfulness in sending their shipment:

PINAR DEL RIO, CUBA, March 8, 1899.
 Editor Public Ledger, Maysville, Ky.—Sir: The officers and men of the First Infantry wish me to thank for the many kind friends in Maysville who have sent books and papers to us here. Many kind letters have also come with the books,—too many to answer in detail,—but our thanks are due, and are here given for the good wishes expressed therein. Many books have come and have been distributed, and I have received notice that more are on the way. These contributions have afforded much entertainment and have done much good. Will you please give this a place in your columns? Gratefully yours,
 NAT P. PHISTER, Captain First U. S. Infantry, Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel U. S. Army.

Your Boy or Girl

Will be better for having a watch. There will be fewer tardy marks and fewer broken appointments. They will learn the value of time, that life is made up of time, just moments of time, and those moments put to good use make life a success or failure. Teach them to be at school on time, to meet the train on time, in fact, do everything on time and thereby shorten the cares of life. Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Carpetings FOR SPRING

We have the exclusive control here of a large manufacturer's output, embracing fully one hundred different patterns in Tapestries, Brussels, Moquettes, Velvets and Ingrains. After long and careful consideration we have adopted this method of Carpet selling for two reasons. First, we can give you a selection in point of quantity, quality and artistic designing the Cincinnati markets cannot rival, an impossibility under other conditions, as we have not the room to carry such an enormous stock as our selection line represents. Secondly, we can sell cheaper, much cheaper, than under the old method, as the factory carries our stock for us, and we need keep no reckoning of profit-clipping, remnants and unpopular patterns. Entering upon this different arrangement in our Carpet business there are three points in which we determine to excel:

PRIVATE PATTERNS.
 HIGH-GRADE GOODS AT LOW PRICES
 CARPET MAKING.

Think over what this means. First, you need not cover your floor with hackneyed patterns. On the contrary exclusive and fresh designs are at your disposal. Second, you need pay no more for the next than poorer grades cost elsewhere. Third, when the carpet making is entrusted to us we will have all carpets machine-stitched; bordered carpets will be faultlessly mitered and sized. No ripped seams, no puckered corners, the cost no more. We solicit your patronage on this basis. Orders can be filled within twenty-four hours. Come in and look over our line.
